

INTERACTIVE AV

Pinnacle NetworkX is a full-service audiovisual company, with a complete line of projectors, high definition displays, interactive touch panels, sound systems, digital signage, and video conferencing systems. We can design and install a system that meets your needs – whether it's a classroom, lecture hall, or auditorium.

- How would you describe your present AV system in terms of reliability, ease of use, and effectively reaching your audience?
- Do you have annotation capability to emphasize what's being shown?
- Are you using high definition displays?
- Would you like to have touch operation on the screen?
- Would you like to have multiple presenters using the same display (collaborative sharing)?
- Would you like to be able to interact with multiple classrooms over the Internet?
- Do you have a lobby or other area where customers or clients are gathered and need to receive important messages about your organization?

If you have a new system or upgrade budgeted this year we can conduct a free site survey.
